The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1,2 & 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Aude.

The language of the like rejection of the first Office action w.r.t. the reading of Aude on these claims is hereby incorporated herein by reference. In regard to the amendments and arguments made w.r.t. claims 1,2 & 5, "near" is a relative term and since the amplifier disclosed by Aude is an integrated circuit, all of the transistors may be regarded as 'near' one another.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aude.

The language of the like rejection of the first Office action is hereby incorporated herein by reference. No amendments or arguments specific to the language of this claim have been presented.

Claims 4,6 & 9-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aude in view of Ingrashi et al.

The language of the like rejection of claims 4 & 6 of the first Office action is hereby incorporated herein by reference. The amendment to claims 4 & 6 does not appear to alter the claim scope. In Ingrashi et al., the transistors Q15,Q16 are each connected at their source by separate leads to ground, which may itself be read broadly as the "place" of the claims. Regarding claims 9-13, the first two paragraphs of claim 9 may be read on Aude just as claim 1 above; the difference is the last paragraph of claim 9. It has already been explained that it would have been obvious to utilize the teaching from Ingrashi et al. of separate ground leads for the current sources in Aude. This of itself may be read as a means for suppressing as claimed by avoiding some transistors having longer ground leads that are extensions of others. Further, the arrangement would also reduce noise from parasitic impedances and thus reduce noise, aid linearity (by reducing noise) and stabilize high frequency operating characteristics (parasitic impedances increase with higher operating frequencies) thus meeting the functional limitations of claims 10-13.

Claim 14 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 7-8 are allowed.

The common ground node being connected to each of the plurality of transistors by a dedicated separate ground line is not shown in the prior art of record in the context claimed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
